Comments:

Wilderness Designation and Roadless Wilderness Study Areas were supposed to prioritize Wildlife Habitat and maintaining Pristine Wilderness criteria. We should not sacrifice these original high ideals to include numerous types of recreation.

The Gallatin Crest is one of the most sensitive and important areas within the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. It will become more fragile with increased population and residential development.

I encourage the USFS to adopt Plan "D" for management to maintain as much Wildlands as possible. We can not make any more.
