Hi there- I wanted to share my thoughts on the upcoming decision you have to make on a plan for the wilderness of the Gallatin range of mountains. I would like you to please choose Alternative D.

Here is why- I love living here and have been a Montana resident enjoying the mountains since 2005. Though I wasn't born here, I chose to be here to enjoy this vast wilderness. Now that so many people are moving to the area we are seeing more destruction to our woods. I have witnessed firsthand people littering, bringing their off leash dogs that scare the animals and plenty of dog feces left on the land. I have also seen the destruction from off road vehicles in these once quiet peaceful places that are animals' homes. I understand years ago there were land trades in Big Sky to private interests so we could have a continuous wilderness in the area (including Porcupine Buffalo Horn). I am a hiker and mountain biker but would prefer the area be kept protected. Thank you for your consideration on choosing Alternative Plan D. If we don't save more land now, we will regret our choices in the future as more people trample our precious Earth. PLAN D.
