Comments:

In reviewing the alternatives presented for the Custer Gallatin Forest Plan Revision I am in favor of Alternative D as it creates several new wilderness areas which provide the most protection for our local forests flora and fauna. Alternatives C would be my second choice and Alternative B would be my third choice of the other options available.

Of the options presented Alternative E is the least responsible way of designating use in our forest areas. It allows uses in pristine areas to be damaged by any type of mechanized travel means that will harm both flora and fauna. This is totally non-compatible within an area that is now a Wilderness Study Area.

Alternative A is not a responsible or viable option as it mainly leaves the area in the same state it currently is.
