I believe this revision plan is a joke! To me it just seems like a new travel plan to contain and do away with the BEAST( Motorized travel). It seems that the Gallatin forest managers only work for the environmentalist and do anything and everything to make them happy. Not one of the proposed maps or options consider more access for all. All of your options only prove that more restrictions and closers are to come. I believe the forest service needs to print out a document that explains to the public what Wilderness really means. Most people from out of state or just moving to this area do not know the definition of Wilderness. Most people think Wilderness is where they camp in there RV. I have been in the Gallatin Valley for forty four years and just can't believe the growth. I wish the forest service could realize we need more access for all user groups but its obvious this is not what the environmentalist want. So the battle continues !!
